DUY'S OVEN · SINCE 2018 · MADE IN VIETNAM

Fat never touches the coals. That is the whole story.

The coals sit off the line where fat falls, so the grill still gives real charcoal flavour without acrid smoke, without lingering odour and without punishing the cook. Every line in this catalog solves that one problem its own way — the difference is where the coals sit, where the fat is caught and how the smoke leaves. Handcrafted in our workshop since 2018.

INDOORS OR OUTDOORS?

Indoors you need low-smoke design and a flue to the outside. Outdoors you can take a full-size offset smoker.

IS THERE A FLUE ALREADY?

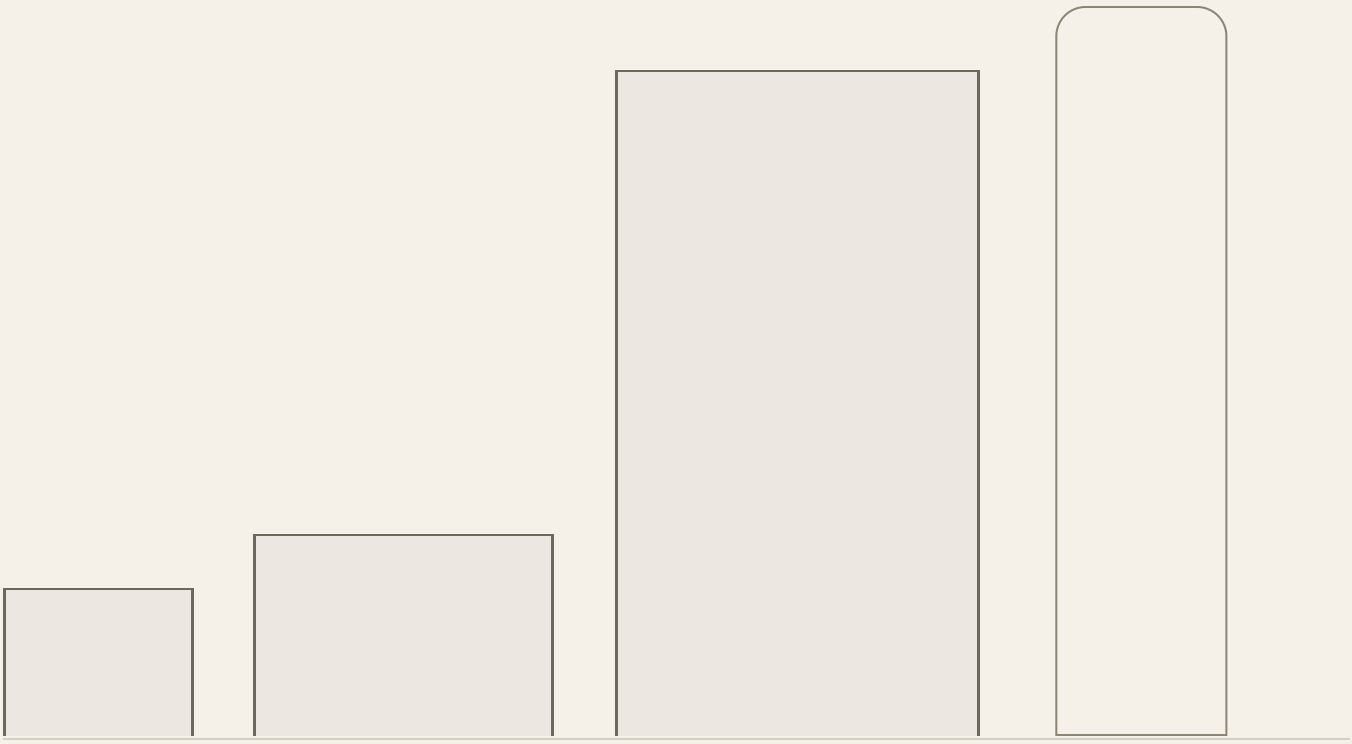

If not, choose a low-smoke line with a detachable chimney — we build it to your ceiling height.

FAST SERVICE OR LONG SMOKE?

For continuous service take a low-smoke grill or FastGrill. For brisket and pork belly over hours, take an offset.

HOW A GRILL IS MADE

Every grill passes through six stages under one roof in Hiep Phuoc. Steel goes in one end; a fired, checked grill leaves the other.

03	TIG WELDING	Continuous sealed welds keep the smoke on its intended path.
04	SURFACE PREP	Degreasing and blasting so the coating bonds properly.
05	HEAT-RESISTANT COATING	Powder coat rated to 600°C, oven-cured for adhesion.
